VOLUNTEER TO FEED THE HOMELESS

"What so ever you do for the least of my brothers, that you do unto me."

We are in need of volunteers to cook and serve lunch at the Independence Kay homeless shelter in Marathon on Fridays at lunch time. Food is provided by KAIR of Marathon. For more information please contact Nancy at 305-289-7676. Thank You.

How perfectly Jesus' invitation accords with summer's spirit: "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened... Take my yoke upon you and learn form me....you will find rest." Yet, as comforting as Jesus' invitation sounds, don't we sometimes wish God would stage a miracle or two to jolt the world out of complacency and unbelief, ushering in the Kingdom with some irrefutable evidence of heavenly power, divine purpose?

But would such miracles really accomplish anything? As today's Gospel opens, Jesus praises His Father's odd plan. The "wise and learned," whose theological education and religious observance should have guaranteed their grasp of Jesus' message, and whose power and prestige could have advanced Jesus' mission, have completely missed the point. Meanwhile, the simple and powerless prove "little" enough to trust Jesus and open enough to learn from Him. Perhaps they understood that as Joseph's one-time apprentice, Jesus the carpenter was referring to the yokes of that time, custom-molded to each animal's shoulders and always made for two, so that animals walking side by side encouraged each other.

In hidden guise, as Zechariah envisioned, this humble king enters our world still. But to those Paul describes as "in the flesh," a humble kingdom that invites but does not compel is no kingdom at all. A discipleship that goes above and beyond is neither easy nor light. But we are "in the spirit;" we see with Jesus' eyes, judge by Jesus' standards, delight with Jesus in His Father's plan.....don't we?
